

Job: Labour MP for Nottingham North

Salary: £64,766

Claimed £495 for service charge on London flat and the maximum £400 for food on most occasions. Food claims reduced when he twice tried to claim over £500 a month

Total second home claims

2004-05: £20,896

2005-06: £21,634

2006-07: £22,110

2007-08: £22,945

David Amess

Job: Conservative MP for Southend West

Salary: £64,766

Mortgage interest claims on London flat did not waver from £600. Claimed the maximum food allowance of £400 a month. In July 2004, £600 claim was cut by £200

Total second home claims

2004-05: £20,902

2005-06: £21,634

2006-07: £22,088

2007-08: £23,063

David Anderson

Job: Labour MP for Blaydon, Tyne and Wear

Salary: £64,766

By April 2006, his mortgage interest costs were £1,203. Claimed for furniture, washing machine and microwave. Claimed between £200 and £400 a month in food

Total second home claims

2004-05: N/A

2005-06: £21,614

2006-07: £20,928

2007-08: £21,652

Job: Conservative MP for Banbury, north Oxfordshire

Salary: £64,766

Claimed for a flat in London before being told he could no longer do so because it was registered in his wife's name. Then had to transfer title to himself and remortgage

Total second home claims

2004-05: £19,007

2005-06: £12,079

2006-07: £2,596

2007-08: £23,083

Gordon Banks

Job: Labour MP for Ochil and South Perthshire

Salary: £64,766

Claimed for nights in the City Inn hotel in Westminster, where rooms cost £125 a night. Bought bedding and furniture for his new property from John Lewis, M&S

Total second home claims

2004-05: N/A

2005-06: £21,468

2006-07: £20,264

2007-08: £23,083

John Baron

Job: Conservative MP for Billericay

Salary: £64,766

Claimed £580 for fencing "to resist vandalism". For 2007-08 the mortgage interest rose to £1,415. Fees office asked for proof of the rise (not in the dossier seen by Telegraph)

Total second home claims

2004-05: £20,902

2005-06: £21,634

2006-07: £22,110

2007-08: £23,083

Job: Labour MP for City of York

Salary: £64,766

Decided flat in London rather than York should be second home and claimed £1,177 monthly mortgage interest. Later, he claimed York as second home

Total second home claims

2004-05: £20,902

2005-06: £21,634

2006-07: £22,110

2007-08: £23,083

Anne Begg

Job: Labour MP for Aberdeen South

Salary: £64,766

Spent £1,403 on living room furniture in her London flat and £500 on Devonshire carpets for two bedrooms. Claimed £85,245 over four years

Total second home claims

2004-05: £20,280

2005-06: £21,634

2006-07: £21,215

2007-08: £22,116

Henry Bellingham

Job: Conservative MP for North West Norfolk

Salary: £64,766

Claimed £1,500 mortgage interest per month for a flat in London. Mr Bellingham claimed a total of £85,845 in four years under the additional costs allowance

Total second home claims

2004-05: £20,850

2005-06: £20,995

2006-07: £21,650

2007-08: £22,350

Job: Labour MP for Sheffield Attercliffe

Salary: £64,766

£1,268 for carpets and £570 sofa bed; £689.99 for television; £1,433.50 on decoration; £1,220 on furniture; £1,135.20 on a bed

Total second home claims

2004-05: £20,902

2005-06: £21,634

2006-07: £22,110

2007-08: £23,081

Brian Binley

Job: Conservative MP for Northampton South

Salary: £64,766

Elected in 2005 and initially stayed at a gentleman's club when in London at a cost of £84 a night. He later began renting a property in London for £1,500 a month

Total second home claims

2004-05: N/A

2005-06: £11,131

2006-07: £21,200

2007-08: £21,700

Bob Blizzard

Job: Labour MP for Waveney

Salary: £64,766

Claims £1,278.25 monthly mortgage interest payments on a second home in London. Mr Blizzard has made few other claims. Those included £363 for a washing machine

Total second home claims

2004-05: £20,902

2005-06: £21,634

2006-07: £22,108

2007-08: £23,082

In Brief

challenge accepted view of dinosaurs

JULIAN SIMMONDS/PA

NEWS